About us

Learn about who we are

Canadian Homeopathy Wellness Group

"We are about providing solutions to a better, healthier future."

A solution for change

Canadian Homeopathy Wellness Group was born from the shift that needs to be made to assist Homeopathy in Canada. As Canadians, we are aware of the enormous potential the country holds as a global leader. We believe that Canada can become a key facilitator in the shift to widen prospective health systems around the globe.

Professionals sharing the same vision

Our team of associates consist of field professionals who have both experience and passion. We are an international group of people and have living experiences from many different countries around the world - South Africa, Israel, Ukraine and Canada to name a few.

Putting Homeopathy first

We understand that Homeopathy is not only a system of medicine, but a way of understanding true health. Because of this, Homeopathy is taking a leadership role as the driving force behind our ideas and implementations.

A big, and happy community

While there is publicly funded healthcare in Canada, there is lack of awareness towards the integration of reputable alternative healthcare into our medical systems. Together with our community, we are going to help.

THE ORIGINS OF HOMEOPATHY

Homeopathy means ‘same-suffering’ and is a system of medicine named 200 years ago by a German medical doctor who was tired of seeing the side-effects and long term damage of the human state through concentrated substances ingested as medicines.

The substance that started his inquiry into the bad effects of concentrated substances on the human condition was Quinine. It was used for Malaria and could help for a limited time and not without long lasting damage. He went back to Chinchona Bark from the Rubiaceae family of plants (the same family as coffee) that was and is still used to make quinine. As he began chewing it, he realized that it could cause malaria like symptoms just by chewing it – as if the poison that can cure you of the problem, can also create the problem. So, he realized why using it would help – yet in large doses it poisoned. By creating minute amounts of the substances and preparing it in ways to induce a release of kinetic energy or resonance, this doctor was able to rediscover the fundamental laws of nature, one being that if something can kill you, chances are it can also cure you in the correct format and amount. That same cyanide in bamboo is what keeps the Panda alive and well. But it is not taken in concentrated doses, or in isolated doses, it is taken in the dose the Earth has synthesized. We too would remain healthy were we to live in nature as wild creatures.

As civilized creatures, it is through dilution and specifically, through the homeopathic process of making our remedies, that we go back to being healthy. It is better over the long run to leave all healing up to the body using Earth's processing of substances as our only guide. Homeopathy touches on a part of this process that reminds us to be careful of the chemical pure form of a single substance, and embrace the code in dilutions that no longer have the chemical form in it. Tea is a diluted form which is naturopathic, while, a homeopathic medicine is like a snowflake that has captured the code and when frozen can only make the original format of the code's instruction.

(Break Interval attached to service)

Basically for the booking system, lets say you are trying to book 10-1pm and the schedule is set for that, it doesn't allow you to book 3 hours because the 15 minute break intervals are connected to the appointment. Solution for this is to have the break interval acts as a separate block from the appointments. This way it won't effect bookings.

For this one, be able to embed Youtube videos where the thumbnail shows up in the post like Facebook. Next in the feed, any person you follow - their posts should show up on your profile/'Feed'.

The screenshot shows a profile page for Adrian Hoss on a platform called Canadian Homeopathy Wellness Group. At the top, there's a green header bar with the group logo and a search bar. Below the header, the user's profile picture and name 'Adrian Hoss' are displayed, along with a bio: 'Just a soul looking to stay within resonance'. A 'Go to Newsfeed' button is visible above the main content area. The main content area features a large image of a person in a red shirt standing in a field. To the right of the image, a blue banner contains the text: 'AS a traveler, it's important for me to have my medical appointments done virtually.' Below the image, there's a summary of the user's activity: 8 Posts, 3 Members, 0 Articles, 0 Events, and 8 Attended Events, all posted 8 months ago. There are also 'Unfollow' and 'Message' buttons. At the bottom of the profile page, there's a small image of another person's face.

I need to send you guys some more stuff for the colour upgrades/pages, this is everything that's left. I will send you this document again in a day or so when fully completed with all of the colour codes, arrows, and typography.

Thanks team.
